Challenges

- Managing the challenging schedules of learners, especially UME students.
- Integrating leadership direction within strategic priorities, including managing community partner expectations and timelines.
- Collecting project end reflections is challenging. Pilot innovations in critical reflection will be executed.

Opportunities for Future

- Pilot innovations in critical reflection will be executed.
- SHINE for Refugee health and SHINE – Youth wellness groups would like to collaborate with RISE for Health for Youth Projects.
- UME Geriatric Interest Group and PGME Geriatric Interest Group is interested in partnering with RISE for Health Senior Projects.
- Flourishing and strengthening the partnerships that we have built and generating new CE and CEL activities that develops organically from these partnerships.
- Due to HPOP course, the CEL profile increased and UME students are increasingly requesting CEL opportunities.
