New Format to Form 1

AHS recently introduced a new Format to the Form 1. There is now a box for each criterion including checkboxes identifying whether this information was observed by you or communicated to you by others. The criteria for certification have not changed, and the new Form 1 simply breaks up into individual parts the information that we were already providing in Parts A&B. The new format makes the basis for certification more explicit, and was introduced in response to concerns from the Review Panels that the content of the Form often did not address all 4 criteria.

Bottom line: You must provide content in all 4 boxes, and indicate where this information came from (you or others). There has already been feedback from our PES teams that boxes are being left blank. The checklist for Form 1 completion has not yet been changed to mirror the new Form 1, and I am told by Provincial Addictions and Mental Health leadership that this is being worked on.

Hopefully this is the last change to the process of issuing a Form 1 until Connect Care is rolled out. We did not receive notification that this change was coming, and understand this has created some confusion. If you have any questions or comments, please let me know.
