Prerequisite/Co-Requisite:

Health and Society 201 and third year or higher in the BHSc Honours or Health and Society minor program or approval of the instructor

Course Description:

An examination of some philosophical principles underlying and debates involving methodology in the social sciences. Consideration will be given to features both common to the social sciences as well as to those that distinguish them. Where appropriate, applications to health phenomena will be emphasized.

Overarching Theme

The course will commence with an exploration of social scientists' struggles to contribute to the health sciences. Natural and social science, after all, compete for funding and symbolic power, and becoming an expert in any discipline can make it difficult to appreciate alternative modes of inquiry. This situation is worth exploring, since there is widespread agreement that complex health issues are best addressed by integrating knowledge from a plurality of sources.

We will look at the movement known as logical positivism and how reactions to positivism have shaped contemporary views on how scientific inquiry produces knowledge. As the course proceeds, students will work in groups to hold a symposium and develop a final project that explores fundamental concepts in the social sciences.

Global Objectives

The overall objective of this course is to develop a sense of how science produces knowledge and whether (and in what ways) natural and social science differ in their standards of evidence.

Course Learning Outcomes

By the end of this course, students should be able to:

1. Engage concepts from lectures and readings to critically assess issues emerging from the social/natural science divide.
2. Situate contemporary understanding of science in its historical context.
3. Draw on existing knowledge and disciplinary perspectives to explore foundational concepts in social science.
4. Collaborate with others to explore foundational concepts in social science.

Transferable Skill Development:

Many of the skills and abilities that you are developing in your coursework are transferable to the workforce, graduate and professional studies and other facets of life. Employers seek applicants with transferable skills because they can be an asset in the workplace, regardless of industry or sector. Transferable skills are core skills for your success in building your future career.

A Note regarding readings

A list of required readings will be outlined on D2L and links and documents will be made available, where possible. Required readings have been chosen carefully to inform you and enhance the lecture material. Students are REQUIRED to complete assigned readings BEFORE each lecture. Instructors will proceed in class on the assumption that students have read completely the assigned readings. Students should be aware that many of the readings they will be assigned may be of an unfamiliar nature and style. Students should allot sufficient time for a careful reading, perhaps multiple readings, of the assigned material.

Learning Technology Requirements

Brightspace (by D2L) is located on the University of Calgary server and will be used extensively for communication with students. It is the student’s responsibility to ensure that they receive all posted communications and documents and that they receive emails sent by instructors or fellow students through D2L. Only your @ucalgary.ca email address may be linked to D2L. Please ensure that you are regularly checking your @ucalgary.ca account.

Assignment instructions and evaluation criteria available on D2L.

There will be NO Registrar-scheduled final exam for this course

A student's final grade for the course is the sum of the separate assignments. It is not necessary to pass each assignment separately to pass the course.

A Note regarding Writing Assignments:

Writing skills are important to academic study in all disciplines. In keeping with the University of Calgary's emphasis on the importance of academic writing in student assignments (section E.2 of 2024-25 Calendar), writing is emphasized, and the grading thereof in determining a student's mark in this course. The Bachelor of Health Sciences values excellence in writing. Competence in writing entails skills in crafting logical, clear, coherent, non-redundant sentences, paragraphs and broader arguments, as well as skills with the mechanics of writing (grammar, spelling, punctuation). Sources used to complete each assessment must be properly documented, unless otherwise noted by the instructor. The University of Calgary offers instructional services through the Students' Success Centre's Writing Support Services (<http://www.ucalgary.ca/writingsupport/>) for students seeking feedback on assignments or seeking to improve their general writing skills. Students are strongly encouraged to take advantage of these programs.

Grading Scheme:

Missed Components of Term Work:

Students will lose 5% per day late past the deadline for all assignments and term work. Assignments will NOT be accepted more than 72 hours after the posted deadline and students failing to submit any assignment within this time frame will receive a mark of zero for that assignment.

As per University Calendar Section G.2.3, students who are absent from an in-class assessment will receive a mark of zero on the missed component. Students who are absent are responsible for contacting their instructor to discuss the impact of their missed assessment. Alternative opportunities for completing missed assessments or shifting of the assessment weight may be possible but are not guaranteed. Students who are identified as falsifying information related to missed assessments will be subject to investigation for academic misconduct.

Extensions will NOT be granted on any assignment or quizzes in MDSC/HSOC XXX. The only exceptions to this are those in keeping with the University Calendar (debilitating illness, religious conviction, or severe domestic affliction) that are received in writing and with supporting documentation. Traffic jams and late or full buses are common events in Calgary and are NOT acceptable reasons for late arrivals to class, meetings and examinations. Please note that while absences are permitted for religious reasons, students are responsible for providing advance notice and adhering to other guidelines on this matter, as outlined in the University Calendar

Course Evaluations and Student Feedback

Student feedback will be sought at the end of the course through the new UCalgary Course Experience Survey and a qualitative student evaluation. Students are welcome to discuss the process and content of the course at any time with the instructor. Students may also address any concerns they may have with

Dr. Fabiola Aparicio-Ting, Associate Dean (Undergraduate Health and Science Education) in the Cumming School of Medicine (feapartic@ucalgary.ca).

Attendance

Students are strongly encouraged to attend every session. In particular, your class participation mark will be impacted by your attendance at classmates' presentations.

Conduct During Lectures

The classroom should be respected as a safe place to share ideas without judgement - a community in which we can all learn from one another. Students are expected to frame their comments and questions to lecturers in respectful and appropriate language, always maintaining sensitivity towards the topic. Students, employees, and academic staff are also expected to demonstrate behaviour in class that promotes and maintains a positive and productive learning environment.

As members of the University community, students, employees and academic staff are expected to demonstrate conduct that is consistent with the University of Calgary Calendar, the Code of Conduct and Non-Academic Misconduct policy and procedures, which can be found at <https://ucalgary.ca/student-services/student-conduct/policy>

Use of Internet and Electronic Communication Devices in Class

The Bachelor of Health Sciences program aims to create a supportive and respectful learning environment for all students. The use of laptop and mobile devices is acceptable when used in a manner appropriate to the course and classroom activities. However, research studies have found that inappropriate/off-topic use of electronic devices in the classroom negatively affects the learning of others during class time.

Students are responsible for being aware of the University's Internet and email use policy, which can be found at <https://www.ucalgary.ca/legal-services/university-policies-procedures/acceptable-use-electronic-resources-and-information-policy>.

Use of Artificial Intelligence Tools

Generative Artificial Intelligence (AI), and specifically foundational models that can create writing, computer code, and /or images using minimal human prompting includes not only GPT-4 (and its siblings ChatGPT and Bing), but many writing assistants that are built on this or similar AI technologies.

Students in HSOC 401 may use artificial intelligence tools for creating an outline, summarizing readings or developing presentation images, but the final submitted assignment(s) must be original work produced by the individual student alone; students are ultimately accountable for the work they submit. This use must be documented in an appendix for each assignment. The documentation should include what tool(s) were used, how they were used, and how the results from the AI were incorporated into the submitted work. You could also be asked to provide evidence of your own work. Failure to cite the use of AI generated content in an assignment/assessment will be considered a breach of academic integrity and subject to Academic Misconduct procedures.
