Course Description:

An advanced seminar involving critical analysis of contemporary health issues. Topics vary from year-to-year, but are always drawn from the current academic literature, from the public policy arena, and/or from the popular media.

Overarching Theme

A strong, critical appreciation and understanding of the complex historical, cultural, and economic dynamics that create global health challenges; and the tools and skills to improve global health and tackle health inequities. Each semester, case studies and contemporary events will be used to illustrate global health concepts and principles and how these can be used to address health inequities locally and globally.

Global Objectives

1. To foster an appreciation and understanding of the multi-dimensional factors that influence global health, including psychosocial, ecological and political factors.
2. To promote the value of the diversity of methodological approaches employed to investigate issues in global health.
3. To cultivate critical thinking about health inequities both locally and globally.

Learning Objectives

By the end of this course, students will be able to:

1. Identify and analyze the determinants and factors that contribute to complex health inequalities locally and globally, including the history of colonization, cultural, economic and power dynamics.
2. Identify the role of cultural competency skills, equitable partnership building, capacity building, and OCAP principles in global health work.
3. Describe the contributions of diverse disciplines within a transdisciplinary Global Health framework (e.g. veterinary medical scientists, social scientists, biologists, ecologists, environmental scientists, biomedical professionals, economists, political scientists, etc.)
4. Identify the roles of stakeholders such as government (local, national), NGOs, donors, academia, international organizations (WHO, UN, etc.), and community in research, program and policy development.
5. Apply and critique global health and disease burden statistics from community health assessments, disease registries, and surveillance data.
6. Discuss strategies to improve global health, including health promotion programs, governance and policy.

Transferable Skill Development:

Many of the skills and abilities that you are developing in your coursework are transferable to the workforce, graduate and professional studies and other facets of life. Employers seek applicants with transferable skills because they can be an asset in the workplace, regardless of industry or sector. - Digital Skills: Use digital technologies like computers, social media, and the internet.
- Information Literacy: Find, understand, and use information presented through words, symbols, and images
- Project Management: Conceptualize, initiate, plan and execute a plan to achieve a predetermined goal (project) by effectively prioritizing activities and meeting deadlines.

Learning Resources

A list of required readings, including links to sources from the University of Calgary's library collection and other publicly available resources will be posted on D2L. There is no required textbook for this course.

A Note Regarding Readings

A list of required readings will be outlined on D2L and links and documents will be made available, where possible. Required readings have been chosen carefully to inform you and enhance the lecture material. Students are REQUIRED to complete assigned readings BEFORE each lecture. Instructors will proceed in class on the assumption that students have read completely the assigned readings. Students should be aware that many of the readings they will be assigned may be of an unfamiliar nature and style. Students should allot sufficient time to allow for several reads of the assigned material.

Learning Technology Requirements

Brightspace (by D2L) is located on the University of Calgary server and will be used extensively for communication with students. It is the student's responsibility to ensure that they receive all posted communications and documents and that they receive emails sent by instructors or fellow students through D2L. Only your @ucalgary.ca email address may be linked to D2L. Please ensure that you are regularly checking your @ucalgary.ca account.

A laptop, desktop, tablet or mobile device is required for D2L access. If you need help accessing or using D2L, please visit the Desire2Learn resource page for students: <http://elearn.ucalgary.ca/d2l-student/>.

Evaluation

The University policy on grading and related matters is described in section F of the 2025-2026 Calendar. In determining the overall grade in the course, the following weights will be used:

There is no Registrar scheduled final exam for HSOC 591.

Students who do not submit the final capstone project prior to end of term will be considered as not having completed the course; this outcome will be reflected on the student's official transcript as a failing (F) grade.

A Note regarding Writing Assignments:

Writing skills are important to academic study in all disciplines. In keeping with the University of Calgary's emphasis on the importance of academic writing in student assignments (Section E.2 of 2025-26 Calendar), writing is emphasized, and the grading thereof in determining a student's mark in this course. The Bachelor of Health Sciences values excellence in writing. Competence in writing entails skills in crafting logical, clear, coherent, non-redundant sentences, paragraphs and broader arguments, as well as skills with the mechanics of writing (grammar, spelling, punctuation). Sources used to complete each assessment must be properly documented, unless otherwise noted by the instructor. The University of Calgary offers instructional services through the Students' Success Centre's Writing Support Services (<http://www.ucalgary.ca/writingsupport/>) for students seeking feedback on assignments or seeking to improve their general writing skills. Students are strongly encouraged to take advantage of these programs.

Missed Components of Term Work

Late assignments will receive 20% grade penalty within 24 hours of the deadline, after which assignments will not be accepted and will receive a mark of zero.

As per University Calendar Section G.2.3, students who are absent from an in-class assessment (presentations) will receive a mark of zero on the missed component. Students who are absent are responsible for contacting their instructor to discuss the impact of their missed assessment. Alternative opportunities for completing missed assessments or shifting of the assessment weight may be possible but are not guaranteed. Students who are identified as falsifying information related to missed assessments will be subject to investigation for academic misconduct.

Extensions will NOT be granted on any assignment in HSOC 591. The only exceptions to this are those in keeping with the University Calendar (debilitating illness, religious conviction, or severe domestic affliction) that are received in writing and with supporting documentation. Traffic jams and late or full buses are common events in Calgary and are NOT acceptable reasons for late arrivals to class, meetings and examinations. Please note that while absences are permitted for religious reasons, students are responsible for providing advance notice and adhering to other guidelines on this matter, as outlined in the University Calendar <https://calendar.ucalgary.ca/pages/02ffccb6b1a541db880fe4223d122b5e>.

Course Evaluations and Student Feedback

Student feedback will be sought at the end of the course through the new UCalgary Course Experience Survey and a qualitative student evaluation. Students are welcome to discuss the process and content of the course at any time with the instructor. Students may also address any concerns they may have about HSOC 591 with Dr. Lisa Welikovitich (lwelikov@ucalgary.ca), Senior Associate Dean (Education) in the Cumming School of Medicine.

Attendance

Regular attendance is advised in order to succeed in HSOC 591. It is important that you make every effort to attend all sessions since much of the learning in this course will be gained through in-class discussions. In-class discussion and all content presented in class, including concepts and examples, can constitute substantial learning and can be considered for assessment. Marks for participation cannot be gained unless you are in attendance. Please notify the instructor directly via email for any extended absences.

Conduct During Lectures

The classroom should be respected as a safe place to share ideas without judgement - a community in which we can all learn from one another. Students are expected to frame their comments and questions to lecturers in respectful and appropriate language, always maintaining sensitivity towards the topic. Students, employees, and academic staff are also expected to demonstrate behaviour in class that promotes and maintains a positive and productive learning environment.

As members of the University community, students, employees and academic staff are expected to demonstrate conduct that is consistent with the University of Calgary Calendar, the Code of Conduct and Non-Academic Misconduct policy and procedures, which can be found at

<https://ucalgary.ca/student-services/student-conduct/policy>

Use of Internet and Electronic Communication Devices in Class

The Bachelor of Health Sciences program aims to create a supportive and respectful learning environment for all students. The use of laptop and mobile devices is acceptable when used in a manner appropriate to the course and classroom activities. However, research studies have found that inappropriate/off-topic use of electronic devices in the classroom negatively affects the learning of others during class time.

Students are responsible for being aware of the University's Internet and email use policy, which can be found at <https://www.ucalgary.ca/legal-services/university-policies-procedures/acceptable-use-electronic-resources-and-information-policy>

Use of Artificial Intelligence Tools

Generative Artificial Intelligence (AI), and specifically foundational models that can create writing, computer code, and /or images using minimal human prompting includes not only GPT-4 (and its siblings ChatGPT and Bing), but many writing assistants that are built on this or similar AI technologies.

Students may use artificial intelligence tools for creating an outline for any assignments in HSOC 591.

However, the final product (presentation, paper, project) must be original work produced by the student(s) alone; students are ultimately accountable for the work they submit. This use must be documented in an appendix. The documentation should include what tool(s) were used, how they were used, and how the results from the AI were incorporated into the submitted work. You could also be asked to provide evidence of your own work.

The use of artificial intelligence tools in the weekly Instagram assignment is strictly prohibited.

Failure to cite the use of AI generated content in an assignment/assessment will be considered a breach of academic integrity and subject to Academic Misconduct procedures.

Students are not allowed to upload class slides, assignment instructions, or other course materials to AI tools or platforms. These are the intellectual property (IP) of the course instructor and /or guest lecturers; uploading these to an AI platform may breach IP rules since some of these sites may use these as training/output data.

Appeals

If there is a concern with the course, academic matter or a grade, first communicate with the instructor. If these concerns cannot be resolved, students can proceed with an academic appeal, as per Section I of the University Calendar. Students must follow the official reappraisal/appeal process and may contact the Student Ombuds' Office (<http://www.ucalgary.ca/student-services/ombuds>) for assistance with this and with any other academic concerns, including academic and non-academic misconduct. The University of Calgary's sexual violence policy guides us in how we respond to incidents of sexual violence, including supports available to those who have experienced or witnessed sexual violence, or those who are alleged to have committed sexual violence. It provides clear response procedures and timelines, defines complex concepts, and addresses incidents that occur off-campus in certain circumstances. Please see the policy available at <https://www.ucalgary.ca/legal-services/university-policies-procedures/sexual-and-gender-based-violence-policy>
