Course Description:

Students will develop their critical thinking skills and their ability to write logically, well-argued research papers. Students will learn the fundamentals of logical reasoning as well as how to analyze theoretical issues in science, medicine, and philosophy.

Overarching Theme

Students will attend a series of lectures and more interactive “clinics.” The first few weeks of lectures will help students build a foundation in the philosophy of science. This foundation will prepare students for a series of lectures on the nature of scientific evidence and will help with students’ writing assignments. Each student will be placed in two clinics, where they will read and discuss papers on a focal topic selected by the clinic preceptor.

Global Objectives

- 1) Students will further develop skills of reasoning and academic writing and deepen their understanding of conceptual issues in health science.
- 2) Students will learn how to recognize and evaluate arguments, use evidence to draw conclusions, consider objections and formulate replies.
- 3) Students will analyze and write about academic papers on a range of science and medicine-related topics.

Course Learning Outcomes

By the end of this course, students should develop....

- Broad knowledge of diverse philosophical issues, problems, traditions, and views
- Deep knowledge of one central area of philosophical inquiry
- Ability to critically digest, interpret, and analyze complex sources
- Ability to write a convincing argument that takes adequate account of alternative positions
- Ability to engage in constructive, respectful, oral and written argumentation

Transferable Skill Development:

Many of the skills and abilities that you are developing in your coursework are transferable to the workforce, graduate and professional studies and other facets of life. Employers seek applicants with transferable skills because they can be an asset in the workplace, regardless of industry or sector. Transferable skills are core skills for your success in building your future career.

The work that you will do in MDSC 205 will help you build the following transferable skills:

- Collaboration: Work respectfully with others from different backgrounds, cultures, and countries.
- Verbal Communication: Learn and share information by presenting, listening, and interacting with others.
- Creativity and Innovation: Find different and better ways to do things, being curious, thinking imaginatively.
- Critical Thinking: Actively and skillfully conceptualize, apply, analyze, synthesize, and/or evaluate information (data, facts, observable phenomena, and research findings) to make a reasoned judgement or draw a reasonable conclusion.
- Information Literacy: Find, understand, and use information presented through words, symbols, and images
- Written Communication: Share ideas and information by using words, images, and symbols.

Learning Resources

All course readings will be made available through D2L.

Recommended Textbooks/Readings

The Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy—<http://www.plato.stanford.edu>

A Note Regarding Readings

A list of required readings will be outlined on D2L and links and documents will be made available, where possible. Required readings have been chosen carefully to inform you and enhance the lecture material. Students are REQUIRED to complete assigned readings BEFORE each lecture. In the latter half of the course, students will be required to collaborate on working through the reading using Perusall. Instructors will proceed in class on the assumption that students have read completely the assigned readings. Students should be aware that many of the readings they will be assigned may be of an unfamiliar nature and style. Students should allot sufficient time to allow for several reads of the assigned material.

Learning Technology Requirements

Brightspace (by D2L) is located on the University of Calgary server and will be used extensively for communication with students. It is the student's responsibility to ensure that they receive all posted communications and documents and that they receive emails sent by instructors or fellow students through D2L. Only your @ucalgary.ca email address may be linked to D2L. Please ensure that you are regularly checking your @ucalgary.ca account.

Evaluation

The University policy on grading and related matters is described in section F of the 2022-2023 Calendar.

In determining the overall grade in the course, the following weights will be used:

Assignment	Value	Due Date
Analysis 1	15%	February 6
Analysis 2	20%	March 13
Term Paper Proposal	10%	March 31
Term Paper	35%	April 18
Paper Perusalls (best 8 of 10)	20%	January 23, 30 February 6, 13, 27 March 6, 13, 20, 27 April 3

Analysis #1: A short (maximum 400 words) paper articulating the argument made in your first clinic's 4th reading.

Analysis #2: A short (maximum 600 words) paper articulating the argument made in your second clinic's 3rd reading and developing an objection to that argument.

Paper Perusalls: Students will collaborate with a group to work through the material on Perusall. This will include annotating lecture readings and identifying questions about the material.

Term paper proposal: Your proposal (max 300 words) should identify your research question or problem and explain how you intend to address it.

Term paper: An in-depth investigation (max 2500 words) on a topic arising from the second clinic

The best 8 of 10 Perusall assignments will count towards your grade. This allows you to miss two weeks' assignment due to illness or emergency. You will not be allowed to submit a Perusall assignment late due to illness or emergency.

There will be no final exam

A student's final grade for the course is the sum of the separate assignments. It is not necessary to pass each assignment separately in order to pass the course.

24 hour 'stress-buster': each student may submit either the Term Paper Proposal or the Term Paper 24hrs past the due date without penalty. In order to qualify, you must write your course instructor or preceptor BEFORE the assignment due date to indicate your intent to use the 'stress-buster'. This offer does NOT apply to the analysis assignments.

A Note Regarding Writing Assignments:

Writing skills are important to academic study in all disciplines. In keeping with the University of Calgary's emphasis on the importance of academic writing in student assignments (section E.2 of 2022-23 Calendar), writing is emphasized, and the grading thereof in determining a student's mark in this course. The Bachelor of Health Sciences values excellence in writing. Competence in writing entails skills in crafting logical, clear, coherent, non-redundant sentences, paragraphs and broader arguments, as well as skills with the mechanics of writing (grammar, spelling, punctuation). Sources used in research papers must be properly documented. The University of Calgary offers instructional services through the Students' Success Centre's Writing Support Services (<http://www.ucalgary.ca/writingsupport/>) for students seeking feedback on assignments or seeking to improve their general writing skills. Students are strongly encouraged to take advantage of these programs.

Grading Scheme:

Letter Grade	Description	Percentage
A+	Outstanding performance	96-100
A	Excellent performance	90-95.99
A-	Approaching excellent performance	85-89
B+	Exceeding good performance	80-84
B	Good performance	75-79
B-	Approaching good performance	70-74
C+	Exceeding satisfactory performance	65-69
C	Satisfactory performance	60-64
C-	Approaching satisfactory performance	57-59
D+	Marginal pass	54-56
D	Minimal pass	50-53
F	Does not meet course requirements	0-49

Missed Components of Term Work:

Students will lose 10% per day late past the deadline for all assignments. In this case, assignments will NOT be accepted more than 72 hours after the posted deadline and students failing to submit any assignment within this time frame will receive a mark of zero.

Course Evaluations and Student Feedback

Student feedback will be sought at the end of the course through the Universal Student Rating of Instruction (USRI) and a qualitative student evaluation. Students are welcome to discuss the process and content of the course at any time with the instructor. Students may also address any concerns they may have with Dr. Ebba Kurz, Associate Dean (Undergraduate Health and Science Education) in the Cumming School of Medicine (kurz@ucalgary.ca).

Attendance

The University has directed that attendance will not be considered when assessing a student's grade except in courses where class participation is a required component of the course.

Conduct During Lectures

The classroom should be respected as a safe place to share ideas without judgement - a community in which we can all learn from one another. Students are expected to frame their comments and questions to lecturers in respectful and appropriate language, always maintaining sensitivity towards the topic. Students, employees, and academic staff are also expected to demonstrate behaviour in class that promotes and maintains a positive and productive learning environment.

As members of the University community, students, employees and academic staff are expected to demonstrate conduct that is consistent with the University of Calgary Calendar, the Code of Conduct and Non-Academic Misconduct policy and procedures, which can be found at <https://www.ucalgary.ca/legal-services/university-policies-procedures>.

Use of Internet and Electronic Communication Devices in Class

The Bachelor of Health Sciences program aims to create a supportive and respectful learning environment for all students. The use of laptop and mobile devices is acceptable when used in a manner appropriate to the course and classroom activities. However, research studies have found that inappropriate/off-topic use of electronic devices in the classroom negatively affects the learning of others during class time.

Students are responsible for being aware of the University's Internet and email use policy, which can be found at <https://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/electronic-communications-policy.pdf>.
