Course Description:

Designed for undergraduates with a general understanding of human physiology who wish to pursue advanced topics in a physiological system(s). The physiological system offered will vary from year-to-year and students should contact the instructor for more information prior to enrolling in the course. There will be a review and then build on basic physiological principles through a series of lectures and/or discussion groups. An examination of the specified area of physiology in-depth by introducing students to research methodologies and pathological processes.

Overarching Theme

This is an advanced physiology course that integrates fundamental principals of vascular biology with an understanding of developmental or pathogenic changes in the vasculature. Students will undertake an in-depth examination of mechanisms governing blood flow and the structural, functional and molecular vascular changes associated with development, disease and pharmacological or lifestyle interventions. Topics will be covered through a series of multi-instructor-led lectures, followed by group discussions and student presentations.

Global Objectives

To advance understanding in fundamental mechanisms of vascular function and contemporary thought on the role of vascular events in the development of disease.

Learning Objectives

By the end of this course, students will be able to:

- Develop in-depth knowledge of mechanisms governing vascular function and development of cardiovascular disease
- Enhance skills in oral communication, tailored to either a scientific or lay audience
- Improve skills in scientific writing
- Learn to critically evaluate a scientific article and engage in group discussion

Required Textbooks

There are no required textbooks

Recommended Textbooks/Readings

Supplemental reading material will be provided to enhance understanding of course content. All reading materials including those required for assignments will be made available on Desire2Learn.

A Note regarding readings

For assignments, students are REQUIRED to complete assigned reading BEFORE each lecture. Instructors will proceed in class on the assumption that students have read completely the assigned readings. Students should be aware that many of the readings they will be assigned may be of an unfamiliar nature and style. Students should allot sufficient time to allow for several reads of the assigned material.

Evaluation

The University policy on grading and related matters is described in section F of the 2019-2020 Calendar.

In determining the overall grade in the course, the following weights will be used:

Evaluation will be based on:

- oral presentations (total 40%)
- written papers (total 40%)
- class attendance and participation (total 20%).

Presentations will include two 15-min oral scientific presentations (15% each) and a final 5 min TED-style talk tailored to a lay audience (10%). Two short written papers will be assigned (20% each). Participation in journal club-style group discussions will weigh heavily into the class participation grade. There will be no final exam for this course.

A Note regarding Writing Assignments:

Writing skills are important to academic study in all disciplines. In keeping with the University of Calgary's emphasis on the importance of academic writing in student assignments (section E.2 of 2019-20 Calendar), writing is emphasized, and the grading thereof in determining a student's mark in this course. The Bachelor of Health Sciences values excellence in writing. Competence in writing entails skills in crafting logical, clear, coherent, non-redundant sentences, paragraphs and broader arguments, as well as skills with the mechanics of writing (grammar, spelling, punctuation). The University of Calgary offers a number of instructional services through the Students' Success Centre's Writing Support Services (<http://www.ucalgary.ca/writingsupport/>) for students seeking feedback on assignments or seeking to improve their general writing skills. Students are strongly encouraged to take advantage of these programs.

In this case, assignments will NOT be accepted more than 72 hours after the posted deadline and students failing to submit any assignment within this time frame will receive a mark of zero. There will be NO exceptions to this policy.

It is the agreement of all Faculty involved in MDSC 569 that extensions will NOT be granted on any assignment. The only exceptions to this are those in keeping with the University Calendar (debilitating illness, religious conviction, or severe domestic affliction) that are received in writing and with supporting documentation. Policies Governing the Course:

Attendance

All students will be required to sign in at the beginning of class. Attendance will form part of the final grade.

Conduct During Lectures

The classroom should be respected as a safe place to share ideas without judgement - a community in which we can all learn from one another. Students are expected to conduct themselves in a mature and courteous manner during ALL lectures. Students are expected to frame their comments and questions to lecturers in respectful and appropriate language, always maintaining sensitivity towards the topic.

Students are expected to take notes during class and should not rely solely on material supplied by the instructors.

Electronic Devices

The Bachelor of Health Sciences program aims to create a supportive and respectful learning environment for all students. The use of laptop and mobile devices is acceptable when used in a manner appropriate to the course and classroom activities. However, research studies have found that inappropriate/off-topic use of electronic devices in the classroom negatively affects the learning of both the user and those sitting nearby. Students are to refrain from accessing websites that may be distracting for fellow learners (i.e. personal email, Facebook, YouTube).

Students are responsible for being aware of the University's Internet and email use policy, which can be found at <https://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/electronic-communications-policy.pdf>

Cell phones (or similar devices) should be turned off (not merely silent) upon entering the classroom. Sending/receiving text messages or leaving the class to take calls is disruptive to the entire class and will not be tolerated unless absolutely necessary. Students who disregard this rule during lectures or tutorials will be asked to leave. These items are not permitted under any circumstance during exams/quizzes, etc.

Copyright

It is the responsibility of students and professors to ensure that materials they post or distribute to others comply with the Copyright Act and the University's Fair Dealing Guidance for Students (library.ucalgary.ca/files/library/guidance_for_students.pdf). Further information for students is available on the Copyright Office web page (<http://library.ucalgary.ca/copyright>)

A Note Regarding Instructor Intellectual Property

Generally speaking, course materials created by professor(s) (including course outlines, presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the professor(s). These materials may NOT be reproduced, redistributed or copied without the explicit consent of the professor. The posting of course materials to third party websites such as note-sharing sites without permission is prohibited. Sharing of extracts of these course materials with other students enrolled in the course at the same time may be allowed under fair dealing.
