Sessional Instructor
MDSC 407: Statistics and Research Design in Health Sciences

Bachelor of Health Sciences Program – Cumming School of Medicine

The Associate Dean (Undergraduate Health and Science Education) in the Cumming School of Medicine is accepting applications for a Sessional Instructor to co-coordinate and co-teach MDSC 407 – Statistics and Research Design in Health Sciences in the Winter 2023 term.

Position Requirements
Applicants with the following qualifications are encouraged to apply:

- a PhD with extensive experience in statistics and research design
- prior university teaching experience at the undergraduate and/or graduate level
- prior experience in course coordination and teaching using interactive and experiential approaches
- demonstrated academic and/or research experience related to the course content
- highly effective interpersonal skills

The Bachelor of Health Sciences program is a research-intensive honours degree program that provides an undergraduate experience designed to engage students in all aspects of health and health research. The degree encompasses the full spectrum of health sciences education and supports a rich and interactive learning environment in line with the Cumming School of Medicine’s vision to create the future of health. For more information, please visit our website: http://cumming.ucalgary.ca/bhsc

Applicants must submit a curriculum vitae and a statement of interest to Dr. Ebba Kurz, Associate Dean (Undergraduate Health and Science Education) in the Cumming School of Medicine. Application documents should be emailed no later than November 7, 2022 to

Dr. Ebba Kurz
Associate Dean (Undergraduate Health and Science Education)
O’Brien Centre for the BHSc program
Email: kurz@ucalgary.ca

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority. The University of Calgary respects, appreciates, and encourages diversity.