VII. POLICY ACTIVITIES

1. Alberta Health Evidence Review Process (January 2012-present).

The Alberta Health Evidence Review Process is the Expert Advisory Panel to review publicly funded health services in Alberta. It supports the use of appropriate evidence and information for decision-making on the public funding of health technologies and services, with emphasis on technologies requiring review provincially or nationally. It has engaged 3 partner Health Technology Assessment Units to support the process' evidence requirements and provide academic support to enhance the process. I am the current director of one of the Health Technology Assessment Units. My contributions in this role include leadership to support on-going adaption of the process to increase efficiency and relevance and completion of timely HTAs to support public funding decisions of specific technologies.

2. British Columbia Health Technology Review (May 2016-March 2024)

The British Columbia Health Technology Review is the process to review publicly funded health services in BC. It supports the use of appropriate evidence and information for decision-making on the public funding of health technologies and services. There are 2 partner Health Technology Assessment Units to support the process (The University of Calgary HTA Unit and C2E2, Vancouver Coastal Health). My contributions in this role include completion of timely HTAs to support decision-making.

3. Expert Committee on Drug Evaluation and Therapeutics (Sept 2016-July 2023)

This Expert Committee for Alberta Health provides advice as related to the Alberta Health Drug Benefit List; and provides recommendations to the Minister for consideration in making decisions on the benefit status of drugs on the List related to inclusion, deletion, coverage criteria, and interchangeability, by reviewing drug submissions and applying expertise to assess the scientific, therapeutic, clinical and socio-economic merits of drug products. I served as the Vice-Chair from 2018-2021 followed by Chair (2021-2023).
