From the Department Head

The Regional Clinical Department of Psychiatry Executive is examining a number of proposals, which are under discussion.

Institute of Neuroscience and Mental Health

An Institute of Neuroscience and Mental Health is one of a number of proposed institutes that would be a joint venture of the Faculty of Medicine and the Calgary Health Region. They would encompass activity in the areas of education, research and service and ensure integration across disciplines. Members would have a variety of departmental affiliations as part of their multidisciplinary approach. The educational mandate would be broad and they would contribute to undergraduate medical, postgraduate medical and continuing medical education programs, as well as provide leadership in graduate science and post-doctoral education programs. The research would span the four pillars of the Canadian Institutes of Health Research. These are basic science, clinical research, health services research and population health.

Joint Executive

In 2002, the University of Calgary Department of Psychiatry has taken over the activities of the Psychiatric Disorders Research Group. We have appointed Dr. Scott Patten as Research Director, and made this position a joint appointment with the Calgary Health Region. As a result, Dr. Patten is joining the Regional Clinical Department of Psychiatry Executive. At present, we are discussing having a single Executive across the University of Calgary and Calgary Health Region. This would have the advantage of integrating the education, research and service delivery missions of both departments.

Alternative Funding Plan

The Department of Pediatrics has started an Alternative Funding Plan. Alternative Funding Plans bring together academic, clinical and administrative funding into one source. The resources are then paid out for pre-agreed performance in the three areas of education, research and service. In contrast, Alternative Payment Plans are a way of paying for clinical services in an alternative way. The University Department of Psychiatry has decided to explore the benefits and risks of an AFP.

Wit and Humour

We have received many positive comments about Dr. John DeVries' feature in the fall issue of Mind Matters, "What is Your Handicap?". I know from attending many site meetings of the Regional Clinical Department of Psychiatry that John DeVries is not the only psychiatrist with a sense of humour and literary skills. Mind Matters offers you an opportunity to showcase your talents and entertain your colleagues. Please follow the inspirational lead of Dr. DeVries and send in your contributions.

Happy Holidays to all.

Awards and Research
The University of Calgary's Medical School Association (CMSA) has recognized two of the residents for their efforts in teaching in the Medical School. Dr. Rup Pandya, PGY-III, received CMSA's Letter of Excellence for his small group teaching in the MIND Course in August. Dr. Lauren Zanussi, PGY-V, received the Gold Star Letter Award in the same area; this is Lauren's third award during his residency in this area.

Dr. Suparna Madan, PGY-V, has received the Geriatric Psychiatry Residency Award for 2002-2003 for the second consecutive year.

Suparna and Rup have also had letters accepted for publication in CMAJ and CJP respectively. Dr. Cindy Baxter, PGY-IV, will have her research on Transcultural Psychiatry published in the Royal College's Annals December 2002 issue.

Dr. Will White, PGY-IV, is working with Drs. Crockford, Ismail and El-Guebaly to research the use of Gabapentin in smoking cessation. Their research proposal was accepted for funding from the Centre for Advancement of Health.

Psychotherapy
In an effort to provide psychotherapy training for an ever-growing group of residents, we have enlisted the assistance of psychologists Drs. Debra Dobson, Kerry Mothersill, Shawn Currie, Maureen Leahey, Linda Goddard, Patrick Lynch and Assen Aladin. Many thanks for all the support from our sister department in helping the program meet its goals in providing Cognitive Behavioral Therapy and Group Therapy.

Emergency Psychiatry Training
Across Canada, psychiatry training programs have grappled with the issue of training in Emergency Psychiatry; how can this be taught without the risks of critical incidents? To that end, Dr. Philip Stokes and the staff in Emergency Psychiatry at PLC have agreed to begin providing clinical experience for our first year residents in the latter portion of their residency year. A big round of applause, please! In addition to this new core rotation, the program invited Dr. Jody Lofchy, UofT professor and specialist in this area, to return to Calgary in late October and present a day-long workshop to all the residents. Residents were involved in role-playing and other workshop activities to enforce the importance of this area.

CanMEDS
Since 2000, the Royal College has been urging Faculties of Medicine to adopt the CanMEDS approach to training. Residents and faculty are encouraged to attain and maintain competency in seven roles: Medical Expert, Communicator, Collaborator, Manager, Health Advocate, Scholar and Professional. In addressing the Scholar role, all residents will be attending a "Teaching How to Teach" workshop on January 24 and 31, under the guidance of the Postgraduate Medical Education office. To address the Manager role, residents also participated in a Quality Improvement workshop with Dr. Jane McCruden and QI Consultant Lisa Stewart in October.

As part of the Faculty of Medicine, our training program will undergo review by the Royal College on February 3 and 4, 2002. Teaching faculty can expect to receive notice of a CanMEDS workshop Thursday, January 9, 0900-1100h to assist them in understanding the implications of this new mandate from the Royal College.

Undergraduate Education

Mandates from the Undergraduate Retreat have reinforced the various undergraduate committees (Clerkship, Curriculum and MIND) to continue support to our residents and faculty in improving their teaching skills. To this end, I have met with Dr. J.-G. DesCouteaux in the Undergraduate Medical Education office to discuss ways and means of accessing funds to support clinical and academic teachers at all teaching sites in the city. Look for more information in early 2003 from the department's program office.

Medical students across Canada have long asked for a greater period of clinical exposure before choosing their medical specialty programs. This year, the service that 'matches' students to residency training programs began later in their clerkship year, thanks to the wonders of technology. Clerks are expected to spend a portion of the last three weeks of January travelling across Canada in interviews, which will affect the amount of time on their Psychiatry rotations. Please keep in mind that all available teaching time should be used effectively to ensure clerks receive the optimum learning opportunities.

I find it very encouraging to know that our teaching program has been increasingly accessed by students from across Canada and the UK for elective time. Between September and December of this year, fourteen students from as close as Edmonton and as far as London will have participated in electives at all four sites, with more requests for 2003 coming in weekly. Although a portion of this could be due to our proximity to the beautiful Rockies, I believe it is also in part due to the positive experiences from previous students. Thank you to all of the preceptors who have provided these students with a chance to see our department in action!

Geriatric Psychiatry

The past few months have been a busy time for the Division, with planning continuing for the Rehabilitation Unit to open in the summer of 2003 now confirmed, and at the request from the Department of Psychiatry for a fellowship description now being submitted.

The Division would like to congratulate Dr. Suparna Madan on her prize at the Canadian Academy of Geriatric Psychiatry meeting, for her poster session on music therapy. We are anticipating that Dr. Madan will be joining the Division next year and will represent the first recruit to geriatric psychiatry since Dr. Benjamin’s arrival.

The other main piece of information is the Geriatric Psychiatry Conference for Southern Alberta, which will take place on the 6th and 7th of March 2003 at the Executive Royal Inn in Calgary. This conference is the beginning of an annual event, rotating around to locations in Southern Alberta. Keynote speakers will be Dr. Ken Leclaire from Queen’s University and Dr. Martha Donnelly from the University of British Columbia. For details and registration for the conference, please telephone Sue Melanson at 297-4821 and see the ad on page 5 (I understand that residents may be able to register for free!).

Lastly, at the request of the residents and arising from the recent accreditation review, the Geriatric Psychiatry Rotation is going to be changed. This will now consist of 6 weeks of inpatient geriatric psychiatry and 6 weeks of community based geriatric psychiatry working with myself and Dr. Marlene Smart. Over the next 2 months, a resident in Geriatric Medicine will also be working with the Community Geriatric Mental Health Program. So as you can see the Division continues to be active.
