Indigenous Health Program's Mini Medical School

Medical Simulation Experience for Indigenous Students

Come participate in a mini med school at the Cumming School of Medicine and gain hands-on clinical experience into the world of medical simulation! Students can practice a range of skills and procedures in an environment that provides the realism of the clinical setting without risks to patient safety. Activities are led by current medical students and MDs. No previous medical experience required.

Date: Tuesday, March 24, 2020, 11:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m.

Location: Clinical Skills Lab, Health Sciences Centre, 3330 Hospital Drive NW

This is a free event open to High School and Undergraduate students of Indigenous ancestry.

Lunch is provided.
