

SOME SEE A POSTCARD,

Dr. Padraig Casey grew up and received medical training in Dublin, Ireland and is in the early stages of a medical career and raising a family. He's building them both on Prince Edward Island.

"With what we've found here and the support that has been offered, we're delighted with our decision to come to PEI."

"There's a lot of good support from specialists in the medical community here; that's not necessarily the case in every community. There's scope here to broaden my skills and work up to my training. I find that a hugely rewarding part of the job."

"PEI fits the bill because it provides a good job, access to good schools, a nice mix of town and country lifestyle, and a relatively low cost of living."

"Some important factors also eased the transition. My wife, Amy, was able to find meaningful work at the University of Prince Edward Island, and the local medical community welcomed me."

Our recruitment team is here to help, and we would love to talk to you.

"It's the perfect place to advance your career and enjoy work-life balance."

Melinda Ells, Nurse Practitioner.

"The community here has been wonderful. They've welcomed me and my family by helping with school registration and advising on work opportunities for my husband. It's been the right decision for us."

Maryna Kudryacheva moved to PEI from Toronto to work as a Nurse Practitioner.

"It's exactly the kind of work I had trained for. In many ways a smaller health centre like this is a perfect place to work as a nurse practitioner. I can work to the full extent of my scope of practice, pre-scribe medicine, work on complex cases and get to know my patients. That may not have been possible if I was at a major hospital in Toronto. I would probably be in a single ward looking at one kind of case," she said.

Prince Edward Island is indeed picture perfect with a life-style second-to-none, but you'll be surprised by the prospects to advance your career, be involved in decisions and help shape the future of our health system.

You'll be amazed by the way things take off here: careers, industries, businesses and more.

PEI is thriving and the only jurisdiction in Canada with continuous economic growth since 2008. As a result, we lead the country in business confidence; sectors such as aerospace, bioscience and information technology are growing quickly and international exports are rising. This brings benefits and prosperity for the province and Island residents overall.

A strong economy also creates jobs - PEI's employment rate is the fastest growing in the country and well ahead of the national average.

PEI's population growth rate exceeded the national average for the last two years and had the highest immigration rate in the country. This creates diversity and culturally rich communities in our evolving province.

Ranked the biggest exporter of mussels in the world, home to the Culinary Institute of Canada and award winning chefs, surrounded by rich soil and clean waters for producing succulent cuisine - it's no surprise that PEI has a unique status as the country's Food Island.

PEI IS A SMALL PLACE WHERE BIG THINGS HAPPEN. .AND THE UNEXPECTED OCCURS.

PEI highly values its spectacular beauty and clean environment and protects this by being a climate leader on a global scale. We get almost 25 % of our electricity from wind power - the highest of any jurisdiction in Canada. We are also #1 in the country for waste diversion through Waste Watch - reducing waste in landfills by 50% and helping to keep our Island pristine.

PEI is an ideal place to raise a family not only because of its exceptional lifestyle, we also have an early learning and child care system rated # 1 in Canada by the University of Toronto's Ontario Institute for Studies in Education (OISE).

With a collaborative health system and close-knit communities, we work together to make decisions and bring novel solutions to PEI, such as Canada's first-ever tele-rounding in Western Hospital where physicians provide care to patients remotely.

PEI has advanced leading-edge medical equipment such as the TrueBeam linear accelerator for cancer treatment in PEI's radiation clinic. It's the newest of its kind and one of few available in the country.

"There is a lot of need for service and opportunity to practice medicine the way I want to."

Dr. Mitch Stewart went into family practice on the Island in 2018.
