The Learning, Engagement, Action for Resident Needs (LEARN) Study:

We wish to explore the needs and perceptions of residency program directors, teaching faculty and residents regarding resident remediation and struggling learners. This is for quality assurance purposes and because there is a lack of research regarding policy development and residency remediation. We are recruiting for one-on-one interviews with key stakeholders including current resident trainees, program directors and teaching faculty.

This is a one-time interview conducted by phone that will take up to 60 minutes of your time. Your participation in this study is completely voluntary. As a token of appreciation for your time, you will receive a $25.00 gift card. For more information, please contact the PGME Research Lead, Dr. Aliya Kassam at kassama@ucalgary.ca.

This study has been approved by the University of Calgary Conjoint Health Research Ethics Board (REB21- 0287).

Does Connect Care charting feel overwhelming? Is it difficult to discern the pertinent information from a charted patient encounter? These may be signs that you are experiencing Note Bloat.

Note bloat occurs when extraneous and irrelevant information incorporated into an electronic medical record.

The good news, there is a solution. You can work with your learners to develop more effective documentation strategies (see reference below). Reach out to our office if you are looking for more specific strategies.
