New Website: LAUNCH

Distributed Learning & Rural Initiatives is proud to unveil a NEW, dynamic website within the Cumming School of Medicine. Physicians will find information on precepting, development and accreditation opportunities, conferences, and useful links.

In celebration of our launch, we're doing a giveaway for sets of stainless steel eco-straws! Reply to this email and tell us three events DLRI hosts for your chance to win! Contest runs until March 31st, 2019.

Continuing Medical EDUCATION

Rural Video Conference Series

CME offers one-hour educational sessions presented by clinical experts via video conference. Each presentation is focused on providing up-to-date, evidence-based, patient-focused clinical pearls that change day-to-day practice and to help participants adapt this knowledge to their local rural and remote contexts in primary care and hospital environments.
