The Role of Online Learning in Future Medical Education

Charles G. Prober, MD

Professor of Pediatrics, Microbiology & Immunology,
Founding Executive Director, Stanford Center for Health Education,
Senior Associate Vice Provost for Health Education

Objectives:

1. Identify some of the issues that should be considered in medical school curricular reform.
2. Summarize why a new strategy for educating medical students needs to be developed.
3. Cite opportunities to enhance medical student education using available digital tools.
4. Explain the need to balance high tech and high touch in medical education.
