Hurting While Healing: Bringing Together Evidence and Family Experience to Understand Pediatric Medical Traumatic Stress

Tammie Dewan

Kristina McGuire

Objectives:

1. Describe the concepts and epidemiology of pediatric medical traumatic stress (PMTS) and related post-traumatic stress disorder through a review of existing evidence and local research findings at Alberta Children's Hospital.
2. Gain an awareness and appreciation of the experience of PMTS from the patient/family perspective including suggestions for healthcare providers.
3. Learn about existing resources and future initiatives at Alberta Children's Hospital to support trauma-informed care for PMTS.
