

2021 Global Child Health Award Recipient Dr. Nalini Singhal

The University of Calgary Department of Pediatrics Global Child Health Unit is pleased to announce Dr. Nalini Singhal as the recipient of the 2021 Global Child Health Award. This award recognizes an individual who has demonstrated significant achievements in the field of Global Child Health.

Dr Singhal is co-editor of the “Helping Babies Survive” programs, as well as co-developer of “Healthy Child Uganda”. Her work in improving maternal and newborn health has a demonstrated effect on decreasing newborn mortality and stillbirth rates. Dr. Singhal is an invaluable collaborator in the work we do.

The award was presented at the 6th Annual Global Child Health Conference on November 24, 2021. Please join us in congratulating Dr. Singhal on this notable achievement.
