

PARTICIPATE IN A GESTATIONAL DIABETES STUDY

Help advance diabetes research with continuous glucose monitoring

What is this study about?

The University of Calgary aims to assess if continuous glucose monitoring immediately after delivery in people with gestational diabetes can predict the future development of type 2 diabetes.

Who can participate?

- Pregnant people aged 18 or older
- Diagnosed with gestational diabetes by their care provider
- Planning an in-hospital delivery

Want to learn more? Contact the Research Coordinator
Olivier Lampron at:

Tel: (403) 220 - 2777

Email: olivier.lampron@ahs.ca

PARTICIPATE IN A GESTATIONAL DIABETES STUDY

Help advance diabetes research with continuous glucose monitoring

What is this study about?

The University of Calgary aims to assess if continuous glucose monitoring immediately after delivery in people with gestational diabetes can predict the future development of type 2 diabetes.

Who can participate?

- Pregnant people aged 18 or older
- Diagnosed with gestational diabetes by their care provider
- Planning an in-hospital delivery

Want to learn more? Contact the Research Coordinator
Olivier Lampron at:

Tel: (403) 220 - 2777

Email: olivier.lampron@ahs.ca

